

Outdoor Activity

Objective- Students will conduct primary research based on the problem statement they have already selected. The purpose is to understand the real users, their experiences, problems, needs, and expectations related to the selected problem.

Activity- Students have to go outside the classroom and conduct user interviews based on their chosen problem statement.

1. Use the same problem statement that they have already selected.
2. Identify the target users who are directly affected by or connected to that problem.
3. Conduct a 5–10 minute interview with at least 7 relevant users.
4. Prepare 5–8 open-ended questions related specifically to their problem statement.
5. Observe the users' behaviour and environment during the interview.
6. Record important responses and observations.
7. Identify common problems, needs, pain points, and patterns from the interviews.
8. Derive at least 3 key insights that can help in solving the selected problem.
